Box 1—About our company

Profile

1. Strategy and Analysis

This section is intended to provide a high-level, strategic view of the organization's relationship to sustainability in order to provide context for subsequent and more detailed reporting against other sections of the Guidelines. It may draw on information provided in other parts of the report, but this section is intended to produce insight on strategic topics rather than simply summarize the contents of the report. The strategy and analysis should consist of the statement outlined in 1.1 (...).

1.1 Statement from the most senior decision-maker of the organization (e.g., CEO, Chair, or equivalent senior position) about the relevance of sustainability to the organization and its strategy.

The statement should present the overall vision and strategy for the short-term, medium-term (e.g., 3-5 years), and long-term, particularly with regard to managing the key challenges associated with economic, environmental and social performance. The statement should include:

- Strategic priorities and key topics for the short/medium-term with regard to sustainability, including respect for the internationally agreed standards and how they relate to long-term organizational strategy and success;
- Broader trends (e.g. macroeconomic or political) affecting the organization and influencing sustainability priorities;
- Key events, achievements, and failures during the reporting period;
- Views on performance with respect to targets;
- Outlook on the organization's main challenges and targets for the next year and goals for the coming 3-5 years; and
- Other items pertaining to the organization's strategic approach. [GRI G3: p. 20]

"U.S. Bancorp is committed to business policies and practices that sustain the environment. With the ever increasing focus on the environment, the changing political landscape and increased expectations from our partners, customers and employees, we will never be 'done' when it comes to environmental stewardship."

-Richard K. Davis, Chairman, President, and Chief Executive Officer, U.S. Bancorp

A year after establishing our Environmental Sustainability Policy in January 2008, we have made significant strides towards implementing the policy and developing a coordinated effort across all business lines in our national footprint to establish U.S. Bank as an environmentally responsible corporate citizen.

Our Environmental Stewardship Council is comprised of senior leaders in key business lines and includes three members of the Managing Committee. Our board of directors is also engaged in sustainability issues. The Council ensures broad implementation of the policy and provides input to general sustainability issues and long-term environmental stewardship strategy. Our focus lies mainly in the areas of climate change (reducing carbon emissions), internal policies and practices, our products and services and employee engagement.

U.S. Bank established a goal to invest $1 billion in environmentally beneficial, profitable business opportunities by 2015. Already, we are well on our way toward meeting this goal. This investment has come in the form of our investments in renewable energy projects, LEED certified construction, energy efficient upgrades in many low income housing projects and many other opportunities.

We have upgraded equipment and technology throughout our facilities and business lines to reduce our energy consumption, resulting in ongoing cost savings for the bank, as well as reduced carbon emissions.

In addition to improving our own impact on the environment, U.S. Bank is also a founding member of the PayItGreen Alliance, a coalition of financial services companies, launched in 2008 and led by NACHA — The Electronic Payments Association, formerly the National Automated Clearing House Association. PayItGreen is committed to educating customers about the benefits of going electronic.

A U.S. Bank focus is on employee engagement — from increased communication and education about the environment and U.S. Bank's approach to providing education and resources for employees to learn how they can make a personal difference. Employees can locate potential carpool partners online, and the bank subsidizes mass transit commuting.

Our efforts in 2008 helped build a foundation on which we can focus on future priorities of continuing to reduce U.S. Bank's immediate impact on the environment, while helping our customers, employees, suppliers and communities do the same.

4. Governance, Commitments and Engagement

Governance

4.1 Governance structure of the organization, including committees under the highest governance body responsible for specific tasks, such as setting strategy or organizational oversight. [GRI G3: p. 22]

U.S. Bancorp is managed under the direction of a Board of Directors. The majority of the Board is independent of management.

Our Environmental Affairs department, led by a Director of Environmental Affairs is responsible for the day to day focus on environmental stewardship. Our Environmental Stewardship Council is comprised of senior leaders in key business lines and includes three members of the Managing Committee. The Council ensures broad implementation of the policy and provides input to general sustainability issues and long-term environmental stewardship strategy. The Public Policy Committee of the Board of Directors also oversees the environmental strategy of U.S. Bank.

4.2 Indicate whether the Chair of the highest governance body is also an executive officer (and, if so, their function within the organization's management and the reasons for this arrangement). [GRI G3: p. 22]

Our chief executive officer is also chairman of the Board of Directors. The Board of Directors has determined that this structure, along with a strong lead independent director, provides the best leadership for our company at this time. For more detail regarding the governance structure, please see the 2008 proxy statement under the heading "Corporate Governance."

4.3 For organizations that have a unitary board structure, state the number of members of the highest governance body who are independent and/or non-executive members. [GRI G3: p. 22]

The majority of our Board of Directors are independent and/or non-executive members.

4.4 Mechanisms for shareholders and employees to provide recommendations or direction to the highest governance body. Include reference to processes regarding:

- The use of shareholder resolutions or other mechanisms for enabling minority shareholders to express opinions to the highest governance body; and
- Informing and consulting employees about the working relationships with formal representation bodies such as organization level 'work councils', and representation of employees in the highest governance body.

Identify topics related to economic, environmental and social performance raised through these mechanisms during the reporting period. [GRI G3: p. 23]

Communication with the Board of Directors is not limited to shareholders. Shareholders can communicate with the Board of Directors through any number of commonly used methods. Via a link on the U.S. Bank website, shareholders, customers and members of the community are welcomed to contact U.S. Bancorp with their questions or concerns.

The Environmental Stewardship Council referenced in section 4.1 above is comprised of approximately 30 employees representing key business lines within the company. In addition, three members of the stewardship council also serve as staff to the Public Policy Committee of the Board of Directors.

Report Scope and Boundary

3.6 Boundary of the report (e.g., countries, divisions, subsidiaries, leased facilities, joint ventures, suppliers).
See GRI Boundary Protocol for further guidance (www.globalreporting.org/ReportingFramework/ReportingFrameworkDownloads/) [GRI G3: p. 22]

Unless otherwise indicated, the scope of this report is limited to U.S. Bancorp's sustainability activities within the United States and to our United States based business operations over which we have operational control. It does not include leased facilities, joint ventures, outsourced operations or unconsolidated subsidiaries.

3.7 State any specific limitations on the scope or boundary of the report. [GRI G3: p. 22]

Since the vast majority of operations are within the United States, this report covers U.S. operations only. Also, as indicated above, it only includes those over which we have operational control. Leased facilities, joint ventures, outsourced operations and unconsolidated subsidiaries are excluded.

3.8 Basis for reporting on joint ventures, subsidiaries, leased facilities, outsourced operations and other entities that can significantly affect comparability from period to period and/or between organizations. [GRI G3: p. 22]

Leased facilities, joint ventures, outsourced operations and unconsolidated subsidiaries are excluded.

3.10 Explanation of the effect of any re-statements of information provided in earlier reports, and the reasons for such re-statement (e.g., mergers/acquisitions, change of base years/periods, nature of business, measurement methods). [GRI G3: p. 22]

CO2 emissions from energy consumption were revised from what was reported in our 2007 GRI report (Corporate Citizenship Report) and Carbon Disclosure Project to account for profiled sites that were included in 2007 that should have been excluded as they were not owned/operated by us, to include steam emissions for facilities and to break out direct emissions from business travel. Original 2007 emissions were reported at 449,361 metric tons, revised emissions are 384,143 metric tons.

3.11 Significant changes from previous reporting periods in the scope, boundary or measurement methods applied in the report. [GRI G3: p. 22]

Box 3—About our stakeholders

4. Governance, Commitments and Engagement

Stakeholder Engagement

The following Disclosure Items refer to general stakeholder engagement conducted by the organization over the course of the reporting period. These Disclosures are not limited to stakeholder engagement implemented for the purposes of preparing a sustainability report.

4.14 List of stakeholder groups engaged by the organization.

Examples of stakeholder groups are:

- Communities;
- Civil society;
- Customers;
- Shareholders and providers of capital;
- Suppliers; and
- Employees, other workers and their trade unions. [GRI G3: p. 24]

U.S. Bancorp regularly and actively engages with stakeholder groups on a variety of topics. In 2008, the following is an example of the types of groups we have engaged (not all inclusive). Community organizations: examples of organizations from which US Bank regularly solicits feedback include: National Community Reinvestment Coalition (NCRC), California Reinvestment Coalition (CRC), Greenlining, and Local Initiatives Support Corporation (LISC).

Customers are regularly encouraged to provide feedback via customer surveys and focus groups. Employee engagement is a priority at U.S. Bank and employees provided feedback via an extensive employee survey as well as ongoing cross-functional employee team interaction (green teams, leadership teams, etc).

In addition, employees of U.S. Bank are actively involved in key organizations such as: American Bankers Association, Financial Services Roundtable, Environmental Bankers Association, U.S. Green Building Council, Consumer Bankers Association, etc.

4.15 Basis for identification and selection of stakeholders with whom to engage. [GRI G3: p. 24]

Depending on the type of feedback desired, a variety of identification methods are used.

Ongoing interaction with key stakeholders occurs through involvement in organizations and community groups.

Surveys and focus groups are regularly used to solicit feedback from employees and customers (and, in some cases, non-customers).

Local advisory boards and CRA task forces in our key markets provide direct feedback on our operations and our strategy.

Box 4—Determining report content

3. Report Parameters

Report scope and boundary

3.5 Process for defining report content, including:

- Determining materiality;
- Prioritizing topics within the report; and
- Identifying stakeholders the organization expects to use the report. [GRI G3: p. 21]

This report is intended for stakeholders who seek to understand in U.S. Bank's approach to sustainability in more detail than what is traditionally provided in an Annual Report or other regular reporting mechanisms.

The information contained in this report what the stakeholders determined material during our initial GRI report (2007) as well as any additional information we feel pertinent or material for 2008. We believe it is important to remain consistent with what was originally provided to be able to begin benchmarking our performance. As additional factors become pertinent, we will include them as feasible in our reporting.

Box 5—Data on performance

Data on performance. Please check the GRI Indicator Protocols before completing this box.

Indicator 1:

Performance:

EC1 Economic value generated and distributed

Comments:

Due to limited space provided for reporting in this category, detailed information about the direct economic value generated and distributed can be found in our 2008 Community Profile and in our 2008 Annual Report, both available online at usbank.com (About U.S. Bancorp section)

Indicator 2:

Performance:

EC2 Financial implications, risks and opportunities due to climate change

Comments:

Due to limited space provided for reporting in this category, detailed information about perceived risks and opportunities due to climate change can be found in our Carbon Disclosure Project response (CDP7), which is publicly available on the CDP web site.

Indicator 3:

Performance:

EC3 Coverage of defined benefit plan obligations

Comments:

The Company's funding policy is to contribute amounts to its plans sufficient to meet the minimum funding requirements of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, plus such additional amounts as the Company determines to be appropriate. Company made no additional contributions in 2008.

Indicator 4:

Performance:

LA1 Total workforce

Comments:

Total US employees (FT & PT) Executive/Sr Off & Mgrs 1,516, Mid-Level Off/Mgrs 8,538, Prof 12,342, Sales 10,474, Admin/Clerical 25,929, Craft 32, Laborers 11. Total non-US Employment 1,200.

Indicator 5:

Performance:

LA8 Programs to assist workforce, families or community members around serious disease

Comments:

Due to limited space, the following is a summary of the programs offered, in addition to medical, pharmacy, dental & vision care. CareWise (health counseling and information), LifeWorks (employee assistance), BluePrint for Health & Care Support (smoking cessation & serious health condition support), Weight Watchers, Flu vaccines.

Box 5: continued...

Indicator 6:

Performance:

SO5 Public policy positions and participation in public policy development and lobbying.

Comments:

U.S. Bancorp participates in public policy development on the state and federal levels, primarily through state bankers' associations and federal trade associations. Participation in policy development is limited to issues that impact the financial services industry and that are a specific priority for U.S. Bancorp.

Indicator 7:

Performance:

EN1 Materials used by weight or volume
EN2 Percentage of materials used that are recycled content.

Comments:

The primary material used is paper. In 2008, we purchased 13,809 tons. A significant emphasis has been placed on the type and source of paper purchased to ensure sustainability of the resource. Of the paper purchased, over 55% was certified (either FSC or SFI) and 6% was recycled.

Indicator 8:

Performance:

EN3 Direct energy consumption by primary energy source

Comments:

Direct energy consumption (purchased electricity): 528,473 MWh (per CDP)

Indicator 9:
